FORTUNE POLLOWS DIBASTER

A Clerk's Windfall Two Hours After His

Bernard Heringhi, a well-known bernard Heringhi, a well-known broker, whose office is on Pine Street, between Montgomery and Sansom, is the father of a young man who will hereafter speak nothing but praise con-cerning the Louisiana State Lottery. The young man's name is Louis, and he has for several years past been chasing fortune behind the counter of Louis Sach's dry-goods store at Fresno.

A few days before the recent confia gration at Fresno, the clerk bought the one-twentieth part of ticket 42,758, for which he paid $1, and of which he thought no more until the morning of the fire. His employer's store was left in ruins, and he escaped from his boarding-house with little more than the garments considered necessary by civilize

In his vest pocket was his portion of ticket 42,758, and in a somewhat reck-less mood he offered to sell half of it to a friead for 50 cents. The offer was re fused, and two hours later the povertystricken clerk passed a bulletin board on which he read, with something like be-wilderment, that his ticket had drawn the first capital prize of $300,000 in the Louisiana State Lottery, of which he was entitled to $15,000.

That night there was a champagne supper at Fresno, in which the lucky clerk participated as host. His share of the prize was promptly forwarded him by Wells, Fargo & Co., and he hastened to the home of his parents at 828 Geary street in this city. Louis' father and one of his six brothers are stock-brokers but Louis believes in real, estate and in real estate the larger part of his prize money was invested.

He paid off a mortgage of $2,500 on some land that he owns at Fresno, and with $8,500 of the remainder bought the handsome dwelling-house at 2222 Jackson street, which he subsequently pre-sented to his mother. The family moved to their new quarters vesterday. and the lucky clerk, after telling the story of his good fortune to many friends and acquaintances, departed for Lake Tahoe, where he will make merry while the season lasts. - San Francisco (Cal.) Call, Aug. 8.

AN INFANT PRODIGY.

A Baby Girl That Smokes a Pipe-The

A Rochester reporter a few days ago heard of an infant progidy such as most families would not care to possess. Her accomplishment consists solely in smokaccomplishment consists solely in smok-ing a pipe and exhaling the smoke through her nostrils. She does not swear yet, because the only word she can speak is "'moke." The little girl is the daughter of a woman who sang at the Casino Summer Garden last week. The mother makes the following statement in regard to the deprayed taste of the child.

"My little girl inherited her abnormal appetite for tobacco from her father, who died on account his excessive use of the weed shortly after the child wa or the weed shortly after the child was born. Nearly a year ago the child's tendency in this direction was first brought to my notice. I had her with me on the street and chanced to stop near a man who was smoking a pipe. The baby, as soon as she perceived the odor, reached out her little hands toward the stranger and soon began to cry. All my efforts to calm her were useless, and sire soon went into convuluseless, and sire soon went into convul sions. I took her to a doctor and told him the circumstances.

"After inquiring about the habits of the child's father, he told me that the taste for tobacco had been inherited, and must be gratified unless I desired to lose the child at once. I wish I had let the baby die. Since I took the doctor's advice the child has never been a day without a pipe and tobasco, and she has become an expert smoker. She cries for her pipe as another baby would cry for its nursing bottle, and I haven't the heart to refuse her. She smokes a whole package of tobacco a day.

"Black Heads." A correspondent much troubled with "black heads" asks for a lotion. They should be pressed out either with the thumb-nails or a watch-key. The operation is likely to cause some congestion of the skin, hence, the face should be betted with yeater as hot as can be be bathed with water as hot as can be be bathed with water as hot as can be borne. As a rule those who have "black heads" are sparing of the use of soap, which ought to be used freely by them. Ladies who object to it might use, instead borax water, or water to which bran is added. Twice daily the following lotion may be applied: Ether, one ounce: carbonate of ammonia, one drachm; boracic acid, one scruple: water sufficient to make two ounces. This should be applied after the "black heads" have been pressed out and the face has been bathed in hot water.

Every temptation that is resisted, every noble aspiration that is encouraged, every sinful thought that is repressed, every bitter word that is withheld adds its little toward a richelfe and higher character. Prison Misife and higher character.-Prison Mir-

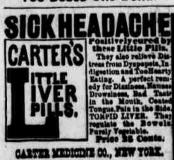

When the opportunity of a mau's life presents itself he usually waits for an introduction.

Weak and Weary

Describes the condition of many people debilitated by the warm weather, by disease or overwork. Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine needed to overcome that tired feeling, to purify and quicken the sluggish blood, and restore the lost appetite. If you need a good medicine be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"My appetite was poor. I could not sleep, had headache a great deal, palus in my back, my bowels did not move regularly. Hood's Sarsaparilla in a short time did me so much good that I felt like a new man. My palus and aches are relieved, my appetite improved." Gronus F. Jackson, Roxbury Station, Conn.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass 100 Doses One Dollar

mall Pill, Small Dose, Small Price

FARM AND HOME.

As the season is approaching when the fields must be prepared for the fall rains, it may be well to see how some of our western brethren are figuring on the cost and profits of the wheat crop. At the last annual meeting of the Northwestern Dairymen's Association. Mr. C. H. Adams of Illinois read a paper on Profitable Farming, from which the Prairie Farmer makes liberal

Here is how Adams fixes up the ebt and credit side with two fields. one grown without manure, the other as well fertilized with stable manure wheat crop:

No. 1, Average,	No. 2, w
Plowing	$1 9
Sowing and harrowing 50 Seed 1 70	CK.
Seed 1 70	170
Harvesting 1 50	2 50
Stacking 75	1 2
Threshing. 1 10	2 0
Selling 1 00	1 00
Manure, barnyard, 13 tons	6 00
$7 90	$16 90
As to the profits, he save:

The unmanured acre produces pushels at a cost of $7.80 or 52 cents per bushel. At 80 cents per bushel the crop would bring $12, leaving a profit of $4.20. The manured acre produces 40 bushels at a cost of $16.95 or 42.5 cents per bushel. At the price named the crop would bring $32, leaving a balance of $15, or a profit of nearly 400 capital stock of the farm, that is, into its stored fertility. It is like selling off a corner of the farm for current expenses. The manured land on the contrary is as sound as ever, and is, in some respects, like its owner, a little

Clover is a great aid in cutting down the cost of a bushel of wheat. Wheat should never be sown without it. It takes a place that would be filled with costly weeds; its roots break up and oosen the soil, while its close low follage prevents too rapid evaporation from the ground of ammonia and moisture. The best judgement of practical farmers generally adds 10 per cent. to the crop. Its value, however, should not be over estimated. Its effects upon the soil are so remarkable that some of its enthusiastic friends are claiming that it can entirely displace manure. Every intelligent farmer should give clover all the credit it deserves in the rotation of rops, and for its mechanical effects upon the soil. It is a pretty good subsoiler. It will root further into the ground than an old fashioned Wisconsin hog. It ventilates the soil and tears it to atoms.—Practical Farmer. Money in Raising Turnips, If turnips are not worth as much as corn meal they do not cost as much, and as an appetizer they have no equal. There are few crops that pay a better profit, especially to farmers three to ten miles from manufacturing towns or cities, where a bushel of winter turnips rarely sells for less than 40c. It is not at all uncommon to get 250 to 300 bushels from an acre, and the yield is often more. At even 40c, and 250 bushels the income per acre is $100. Increasing each 50 per cent (an expectation that is not at all extravagant) the acre will produce $200. The expense is as follows: Five dollars for plowing twice, $3 for two thorough draggings,

$25 for manure or some appropriate commercial fertilizer and enough more for hand labor to make with the taxes on the land $45 per acre, and the profit is $55 in the former case or $155 in the latter. Besides, if the owner be a good calculator he can often get some other crop as a by-product. I have raised a crop of nice oat hay followed by turnips at the rate of 400 bushels per acre in the same season. To do this, plow greensword, or turn over the early potato ground the previous autumn and a month later harrow the field thoroughly. This will kill all the weeds. Draw on the manure, or if phosphate be used sow it with the oats and harrow both in before others have plowed for oats. Having the plowing done in the fall the oats can be sown early and start betimes. Let them be cut in the milk and made into hay, and the ground plowed the following day if possible. Have the harrow follow three days later to kill the young weeds that have started and sow the turnip seed at once, bushing lightly. With this give a light dressing of ashes or some other good fertilizer. This is an excellent time to seed the field to grass if it is desired. Hard or winter turnips should be drilled in rows 3 feet apart, with some quick-acting fertilizer in the drill. In the latitude of New York city seed should be put in the ground before the latter part of June or July 1, and the sowing can be continued as late as July 15. Thin them out to 6 inches apart at least and cultivate two or three times. A pound and a half to two pounds of seed is needed to the acre. It is better to waste seed than not to have enough. In cutting out plants the poor ones can be killed. It matters little what soil the turnip is put in if it be rich and not too dry. If this drilled crop should chances to fall, the ground can be sown a little later to English turnips. A great advantage that the turnip has is that it thrives best in the fall when few other crops are growing, and can be havested at any time before Christmas. The farmer who takes up turnip-raising intelligently and follows it systematically and persistently will surely make more with less work than by most other crops.—American Agriculturist.

It may appear strange to some that wool clipped in different sections of our country should command different prices. Though there is a difference in the es. Though there is a difference in the texture and quality of wool raised in bring on an unpleasant sensation for different localities the rule for grading or classing wool as to states or territories where raised, is not arbitrary, for as the sensation or an unpleasant sensation for days.

Wool Journal says: The wool grower who will take good care of his sheep, and see that they are well fed, house from cold storms in winter, and properly ended to in other respects, will unstedly shear a well grown, healthy sirable clip of wool, so far as the character goes. But there are other requisitites to a good selling clip that the intelligent flockmaster will not neglect. The wool must be clean, that is in good condition, and the fleeses must be put up in an honest manner, free from tags, sweat locks, dung balls, chaffy locks or any other wool of less value than the fleeces themselves.

The idea was advanced some time since by some correspondent in Texas, that an injustice was being perpetrated as good western land requires for a on wool growers, by rating the value of their wools in the market according to ell states or section where the wool was grown; not by its quality, or condition. This idea is entirely erroneous, as the condition and other characteristics of wool always determine its value. We take the ground that careful and constant attention to a flock of sheep throughout the entire year, and in shearing and putting up the fleeces, will add largely to the net price any wool grower gets for his clip.

To illustrate, we have recently known of a clip of fine wool, shipped by the grower from Nebraska to a wool commission house in Chicago, that was fully equal in character and condition to any similar grade grown in Wisconsin; and the wool house sold it readily at the highest market price for Wisconsin wool. Now we think what one farmer per cent. greater than in the first intance. Nor is this all; the crop of of sheep, others ought to come very near 15 bushels makes a straight hole in the doing. If one man can keep his sheep on clean pastures during the grazing season, and in clean sheds during the winter, and shear a bright, well grown clip of wool in the spring, surely there is no good reason why others in similar surroundings cannot do equally well and now is the time to begin the work and care for the next clip.

The sheep is stripped to the foundation and ready to begin business for a new crop. Do your best in care and see what improvement can be made next vent over this season's clip. A little grain or oil meal will help the texture of wool from sheep that have nothing but grass range in summer and wild hay in winter.

Good fences make penceable stock. A noted legal authority has said that the best law for a line fence was anothr top-pole.

It is very important in transplanting rees of every kind, as well as plants and vines, to cut back considerable-often very seriously. Many trees fail to grow simply because too much top is left in proportion to the roots.

After each rain the ground should be cultivated lightly in order to prevent evaporation of moisture. The loose dirt serves as a covering and shields the earth from the direct effects of drying winds and the heat of the sun.

We wish some one in each farm home would be responsible for the gathering of the eggs. Then there would be less complaint in the city markets of 'stale eggs.' When gathered, put in a dry, cool place, and sell at least once a week; that is if you do not pack.

The man who has made money from a lot of cows whose supply of water was a stagnant pond hole, into which the cows waded in the summer and from which they drank through a hole cut in the ice in winter, has wrought a miracle, besides producing a lot of unhealthy milk at the same time.

No farm is completely equipped without a good sized nail box, filled with different sized nails, bolts, screws, copper rivets, and some soft wire. Emergencies are constantly arising on every farm when it will be very handy to have the above articles around. It also saves many a dollar in time and repairs.

It is well known among practical cultivators that the exclusive use of commercial fertilizers will soon ruin the soil, unless some means of forming humus is supplied. Straw and other organic matter in stable manure, is of prime value in furnishing numus to the soil. Hence, it pays to haul this straw, and other matter in manure, even where commercial fertilizers are largely used.

As soon as you have the crops in bear in mind that tillage is manure and go to work. Put the harrow upon the corn and potatoes and keep it going till they are big enough to use the cultivator, and keep that going till they are too large for it, meanwhile using the hoe between the hills and no strong weeds that may escape the horse cultivators.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Hints to Housekeepers Water house plants with cold tea.

For poison oak, bathe in cream and gunpowder twice a day till cured. Green vegetables will retain their color if cooked in an uncovered vessel. Wash gilding with water in which onion has been boiled, and dry with a soft cloth.

To cleanse white zephyr shawls, rub well with dry flour and hang in the wind.

Clothespins boiled a few minutes and quickly dried once or twice a month beme more durable.

Add a little petroleum to the water in which waxed or polished floors are washed to improve their looks. To make tins shine in hot soap-suds dip a dampened cloth in fine sifted coal sahes; then polish with dry ashes. A room with a low ceiling will seem higher if the window-curtains hang to the floor. Lambrequins may be used to extend the curtains to the ceiling, and thus carry out the effect. A London medical man says: careful in your dealing with horse-radish. It irritates the stomach far or classing wool as to states or territories Coffee pounded in a mortar and at all. I want a where raised, is not arbitrary, for as the reasted on an iron plate, sugar burned York Weekly.

on hot coals and vinegar boiled with myrrh and sprinkled on the floor and furniture of a sick room are excellent

Ink stains are entirely removed by the immediate application of dry salt before the ink has dried. When the salt becomes discolored by absorbing the ink brush it off and apply more wet slightly. Continue this until the ink is all removed.

There is no economy in purchasing brown fugar. The moisture it contain nore than makes up for the differ in price; but for some things, such as lark cake and mince pies, many cooks prefer it. Granulated sugar is the purest and best for ordinary uses.

A very complete filling for oughly soaking newspapers in a paste made by one pound of flour, three quarte of water and a tablespoonful of alum, thoroughly boiled and mixed; make the final mixture about as thick as putty, a kind of paper putty, and it will harden like papier-mache.

The Art of Prosperity. Tell me not that advertising Is at best an empty dream.

For its charms are more surprising (And everybody who has tried it wise and well will acknowled that its offects are far more astou.shing) Than its dull, old-fashioned practition could ever deem.

and which everway thou turnest Thou will find, upon the whole, Those who advertise in parnest wealthy commercial firms and we shall admit that those who do the thing properly) est reach the wished-for goal. Would'st though then a lesson borrow!

(Yes, we have only to glance at our

Advertise then so to morrow

(Don't let a little expense deter you you are merely casting your bread have the satisfaction of knowing that each to-morrow) Finds thee richer than to-day.

Advertise then! No retreating! Let the senseless croakers rave; While your heart with hope is beating

(You will always find a lot of people in every community who are blind to their interests; but while you are making fame and fortune)

They will find oblivion's grave.

Printer's ink will lead the battle-Printer's ink, the balm of life: (No. it does it work quietly; and in the great war of competition, when judi-ciously and thickly laid on, it always)

Leads the van against the strife. Advertisers oft remind us Make our pile, and leave behind us

We not only feather our own nest, but we provide for the prosperity and well-being of generations yet unborn, and so leave behind us) What delies the touch of time

Seeing which, perchance another Struggling man with weary brain, some non-advertising brother, mended, especially in the matter of ad vertising; and many a struggling busness man seeing the secret of another's

May with wisdom try again. Advertise then! Up and doing!

And, the wiser course pursuing a position to look the whole world in

Learn to advertise and wait! Drunken Indians.

Linked with the account of drunken antics by the Mille Lacs Indians come a careful statement of their sorrows. The white men have committed many depredations on the noble warriors, it is said. The hearts of the red men have been wounded with the base treachery of the pale faces. Rising majestically, with plenty of whiskey in them, the sons of nature have terrorized many settlements.

The North American Indian . savage. He has the propensities of a tiger, is more dangerous, and is less cleanly. The people hanged an exemplary number of the wretches of 1862thirty-two, at Monkato. That lesson ought to have served an aborigine who draws his living from the larder of his captors. The Indian question is now reaching that stage where toilers are asking why they should support an Indian when they may have a just cause for hanging him.—Chicago Herald.

Would Not Sit on the Floor. A certain New York alderman a few days ago, called on his representative in Washington. The meeting was very cordial, for the alderman was a power. "I am delighted to see you," exclaimed the representative as he shook him by both hands, "Won't you come in and take a seat on the floor?"

"Av yez will exchuse me jist now, Oi'll see ye later," replied the visitor as he withdrew his hands from the retaining clasp.

About an hour after a friend of the statesman met the alderman in a favorite resort, and the alderman was giving the statesman "down the banks" in terrible shape. "I am surprised," remarked the friend," "I thought you was a friend of Mr. So and So."

"Sure Oi war, bud Oi'l not be in sulted by any mon."

"Why, how did he insult you?" "Whin Oi called on him jist now did'nt the blagard ax me wud Ol coom in wid de high jinks an' sit an ther flure! Sit an ther flure, do ye moind! Oi'l not sit an any mon's flure. Be the hokey do he take me for a moonkey? Jist wait till Oi go back wid de byes. Av Oi don't sit him an ther flure me game is

It took quarts of high-priced explanation to convince him that an hone intended. - Texas Siftings.

Doctors and Doctors. First Citizen-"Why don't you get Doctor Brownstone for your son? He must be a good physician for he has a large practice among the Four Hun-dred."

Second Citisen-"Oh, he wouldn't do at all. I want a brain specialist."-New "BLOTS AND BLEMISHES."

the Things From Escape if Possible. From these "blots and blemishes Sare us. From all who "say" their prayers but ver "pray." From all whom dogs and children dis

From the slattern and the severely From the three P's—plumbers, poli-ticians and neighbors' pianos. From people who rush to the seaside in summer, but never take a bath at home.

From wives who think that husbands were only made to work that they may spend.

From Americans who have never seen their own country, buf go every summer to "Yurope."

From the creatures that write nasty books or weed them. books or read them.

From press agents, society actresses and would-be stars.

From tailor-made gentlemen every

From the man that knows it all. From "clams" that like muddy water

From the man who speaks of an other's alleged vices with tears in hi From mublic libraries that never buy.

The property of the publishers the profits.

From mothers who turn their children into the street to "keep the house tidy."

From public libraries that never buy book worth preserving.
From dealers in the "antique" who make their own wares.

From policemen who cannot see be cause they are paid for not seeing. From shop-girls who judge lady cus-tomers by their clothes and treat them accordingly.

From dealers of all kinds who call dishonesty "business."

From cashiers who affect the style of millionaires and go to Canada or to jail.

From "blemishes" upon manhood who give "swell" dinners to "blots" upon

From the "dudes" who hang around stage doors, and from ballet girls off the From prima donnas who cannot sing and servant girls who think they can. From the bar room actor who "supported Forrest."

A Modest Malden. A wise girl shows no preferences. So long as her heart and hand are free she will do well to treat all those gentlemen admitted to her society with an air of well-bred ease, which at once gives them to understand that she expects nothing infrequently piques them into a stronger feeling. A great beauty of my ac-quaintance made herself unpopular and neglected by an air of insolent indiffer ence amounting to rudeness. This is never good form and never pays, unless one wishes to wound and antagonize. I have known two young ladies to lose possible husbands by trying to monopolize the attentions of young men whom they had met. A young man com-plained to me last summer at the seashore of this propensity of young ladies.

"I knew only one young lady here when I came," he said, "and she will not introduce me to any others. I want to dance at the hops, but cannot, of course, unless I know the ladies." I have found it invariably true that the girls who introduce their gentlemen friends freely and readily are themselves the most sought after and popular. Nothing makes a man so desirous of going as the feeling that he is being hindered from coing. Nothing makes him so ready to going. Nothing makes him so ready to return as a willingness on your part to

What wrought the change? This woman's face Is ruddy with a rose's grace.

Is ruddy with a rose's grace.

Her eye is bright.

Her heart is light.

Ab, truly 'tis a goodly sight.

A few brief months ago her cheek

Was pallid and her step was weak,

"The end is near

For her, I fear,"

Sighed many a friend who held her dear.

I can tell you what wrought the change in her. She was told by a friend, who, like her, had suffered untold misery from a complication of female troubles, that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription would certainly cure her. This friend "knew whereof she spoke," for she had been cured by the remedy she advised her friend to use. She is enthusiastic in its praise, and tells her friends that Dr. Pierce deserves the universal gratitude of woman-kind for having given it this infallible remedy for its peculiar allments. It is guaranteed to give satisfaction in every case or money refunded.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets, one a dose. Cure

Dr. Pierce's Pellets, one a dose. Cure readache, constipation and indigestion.

No plummet line of human sympathy can fathom the agony the liquor traffic brings. None but the plummet line of God's infinite sympathy can touch the bottom of the woe that is upon us.

Smoke the best-"Tansill's Punch" Cigar. A youth will never have his ways mended y patronizing the sherry cobler too often.

If afflicted with sore eyes use Dr. Isaac Thomp-son's Celebrated Eye Water. As man gets older he knows more, but he not get any more attractive in learning

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria, When she was a Child, she oried for Castoria, When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria, When she had Children, she gave them Castoria

A violinist is like a charming young maiden in that he likes to get his bow on a string.

Firm.—Ail Fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first day's use. Mar-valous cures. Treatise and 8-to strail bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St., Phila., Pa It is not good that repels or evil that at-tracts, but the monotony of good and the variety in evil.

CONDUCTOR E. D. LOOMIS, Detroit, Mich., says: "The effect of Hall's Catarrh Cure is wonderful." Write him about it. Bold by Druggista, 75c.

The Elixir That is Beally Needed.
The real clixir of life that is needed to-day is a scheme of existence which shall bring contentment to all, independently of their circumstances. People well know that there is something wrong about this vast difference between the dreams of their youth and the realities of their old age. The process of disenchantment which they undergo breaks them all up, and they bagin to look forward to death with eagerness rather than to experiment with rejuv-For Cure of SPRAINS STRAINS look forward to death with eagerness rather than to experiment with rejuvenators. It is a standing joke with those who witness or read about the graduating exercises of our higher institutions of learning that the youth must unlearn many things before they can be taught the realities of life. Why should time be wasted on the young, imparting to them so much knowledge about things which are not so? Why is it necessary for anyone to be started out on the road with any false motions about where it is to lead? PROMPTLY AND PERMANENTLY NTDRUGGISTS AND DEALERS EVERYWHER THE CHAS-AVOGELER GO-BALTO-MO-A WEAK, ACHING BACK bout where it is to lead?

The highway of life is such a well Hop Plasters
The New England Household Remedy.
Lord and deep sested paints. Strains. Side.
Lord and deep sested paints. Strains. Side.
Lord and deep sested paints. Strains. Side.
Lord Remedy Cirk. Sore Musclem. A claim
John Remedy Company. Compan

WITHOUT RETURN OF PAIN.

ASK FOR THE OLD RELIABLE!

GREE

SOLD EVERYWHERE

Burns or Sores. TRT IT.

MORTHERN PACIFIC.

LOW PRICE RAILROAD LANDS ---

FREE Government LANDS.

ETMILLIONS of ACRES of each in Mismeats, North Dabeta, Nor

STOPPED FRIE

DUTCHER'S

FLY KILLER

BASE BALL The x 51 79 pages

55 ters a day. Samples worth 23, 15 FREE times not under horses feet. Write Brew-ster Safety Rein Holder Co., Holle other.

RAZER

The highway of life is such a well beaten track, so many millions have traveled over it for so many centuries and left an exact record of their experiences, that there is really no opportunity to go astray or come upon any new combination of circumstances. The kind of medicine which would be of the most value is not an essence scraped out of lambs and guinea pigs, but rather the essential experiences of past generations made available for the present use of the humblest as well as the most exalted. Ignorance of the exact conditions of life is the greatest evil of the present day.

The Granger in Town. Granger-"What are they playing at this here theavter te-night?" Ticket Seller—"The stirring melo-drama 'The Demon Horse Thief," replete with startling situations and blo plete with startling situations and blood-curdling incidents."

Granger—"How much is tickets?"

Ticket Seller—"One lifty."

Granger—"Wall, I'd like ter see it, but I can't stand no such price."

Ticket Seller—"You might go up stairs-fifty cents."
Granger-"That so? What do they play up stairs?" A Fairy Tale.

A famous woodsman once boasted that he could find his way through a wilderness and return by the same path. Being tested, he carried with him a slender thread, which should serve as a guide for the return trip. Reaching the end of his journey, he lay down to rest. While he rested came the genius of industry and breathed upon his thread and changed it to two shining ribbons of steel. It was a railroad. Throngs of people whirled past him in luxurious cars, and he read upon the train the mystic legend: "Wisconsin Central!"

A horse may win a race by a bare neck, and it is possible lovers may be so won at a fashionable ball.

CUT RATES TO THE WEST. Cheap tickets to all points in Kansas, Colorado, Indian Territory (Oklahoma) Texas and other States and Territories in the West will be sold by the Santa Fe Route from Chicago and other points along the line, on August 6 and 20. September 10 and 24 and October 8.

For particulars ask your Ticket Agent or write to John J. Byrne, Assistant General Passenger Agent, Santa Fe Route, Chicago, Ills.

They find it very difficult to collect rent in Ireland, even when the police make the charge. This is the age of wonders, and the average American citizen is no longer surprised at anything. If you want to experience that sensation, however, just write to B. F. Johnson & Co., 1009 Main St., Richmond, Va., and hear what they have got to say of the success of some of their agents. They have got the goods that sell, and any one out of employment will consult their own interests by applying to them.

To count for anything it ought to be spelled sympathy.

Ever since 1864 there have been women (more each year) who claim that there is no soap half as good, or as economical as Doblina Electric. There must be some truth the there have the truth the there have the truth truth the truth in their claim. Try it, see how much. You grocer has it.

The road to ruin leads through the wicket

M. N. P. Co., CHICAGO, VOL. 1V .- No. 18 Sleepless Nights

month I was not able to sleep, but after using Pane's Celery Compound, which at once attenues a Celery Compound, which at once attenues and many medical colors and the color of the color Paine's Celery Compound quickly quiets and strengthens the nerves, when irritated or weakened by overwork, excesses, disease, or shock. It cures nervousness, head-ache, dyspepsia, sleeplessness, nelancholia, and other disorders of the nervous system. pound and it has entirely relieved me of sleeplessness, from which I have suffered Tones up the MRS, E. AUTCLIFF, Peoria, III.

Shattered Nerves "For two years I was a sufferer from nervous debility, and I thank dod and the discoverer of the valuable remedy, that J'aine's Celery Com-pound coved me. Let ... "one write to me for advice." GEORGE W. BOUTON, Stamford, Conn.

Paine's Celery Compound produces sound and refreshing steep. A physicion's prescription, it does not contain one harmfuldrug. Like nothing else, it is a guaranteed cure for steeplesness, if directions are fatthruly followed.

10.0. Six for $5.00. Drugrists.

Wells, Richardson & Co., Burlington, Vt. DIAMOND DYES Original and only reliable. LACTATED FOOD ogrees with Weak Stam

Dryant & Stratton Chicago Business College

Don't rub the dirt out of your ancestors did. Keep up with the times. Try modern ideas for saving labor. James Pyle's PEARLINE leads all of those which pertain to cleanliness. Labor-saving directions on every package.

What is it that frays your collars, cuffs and shirts, and pulls off the buttons and strings? What is it that ruins your paint? It's the oldfashioned way of rub, rub, rub, to make clean. PEARLINE does away with most of the rubbing, so it saves the worst of the wear, on the clothes, the paint, and the woman herself. Millions now use PEARLINE. It is the modern soap, and a fair trial will convince the most skeptical of its merits.

STIP OF

Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers are offering imitations which they claim to be Pearling or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—they are not, and besides are dangerous. PEARLINES sever peddled, but sold by all good grocers.

Monufactured with by JAMES PYLE, New York